PREFACE

IN PRESENTING this, the first Directory of Hill City, we desire to thank the people for their hearty support and the liberal advertisers shown herein for making it possible for us to issue this Directory.

It is not necessary for us to tell the 2700 people in Hill City that it cost the publishers of this book several hundred dollars to produce same, as the work shown herein is of the highest grade.

Hill City is forging to the front. We give the names and addresses of over 900 working people and heads of families. Hill City has over 600 buildings, and we do not hesitate to say that if 200 more houses were built at the present time that they would be occupied in less than thirty days. Never in the history of the suburbs has there been such great demand for houses. Property readily pays 10 per cent. net on money invested.

HILL CITY

THE SUBURB, appropriately known as Hill City, is situated on the picturesque ground north of Chattanooga.

A few years since two or three hundred people constituted the population of this suburb, with only a house here and there. Now there is a population of 2,700; four schools; five churches; two electric car lines; a number of secret societies, and over 600 houses.

Hill City is ideally located for health—high, pure air from the mountains, a natural drainage to the river.

From this place there stretches all around a panorama of rare beauty and grandeur. A picture of hill and valley and mountain, and between, the broad sweep of the river. A scene unsurpassed in any country—inspiring, elevating.

On the commanding hills of this section, during the great conflict of half a century ago, tents were pitched and forts erected; while from Market street to Ferry street, the Federals constructed a wooden bridge. This bridge was swept away by the flood of 1867. All that now remains is a solitary pier to mark the place where it once stood.

Up to the time of the completion of the new bridge, at Walnut street, people were transported across the river by means of horse, swing and steam ferries. The swing ferry was operated by means of a wire cable, fastened on the island lying between Chattanooga and Hill City.

The present bridge was commenced in 1889 and completed in 1891 at a cost of $233,697. Twenty-five thousand dollars of this sum was given by certain citizens of Hill City. This bridge spans the river from Walnut street, Chattanooga, to Forest avenue, Hill City, and is one of the finest structures of its kind in the South.

Along educational lines, Hill City has kept apace with her commercial enterprise. The Chattanooga Normal University is situated on a commanding eminence overlooking the city. This building was erected in 1896 at a cost of $25,000. The school is now ably conducted by Prof. Samuel Hixson and a faculty of efficient associates.

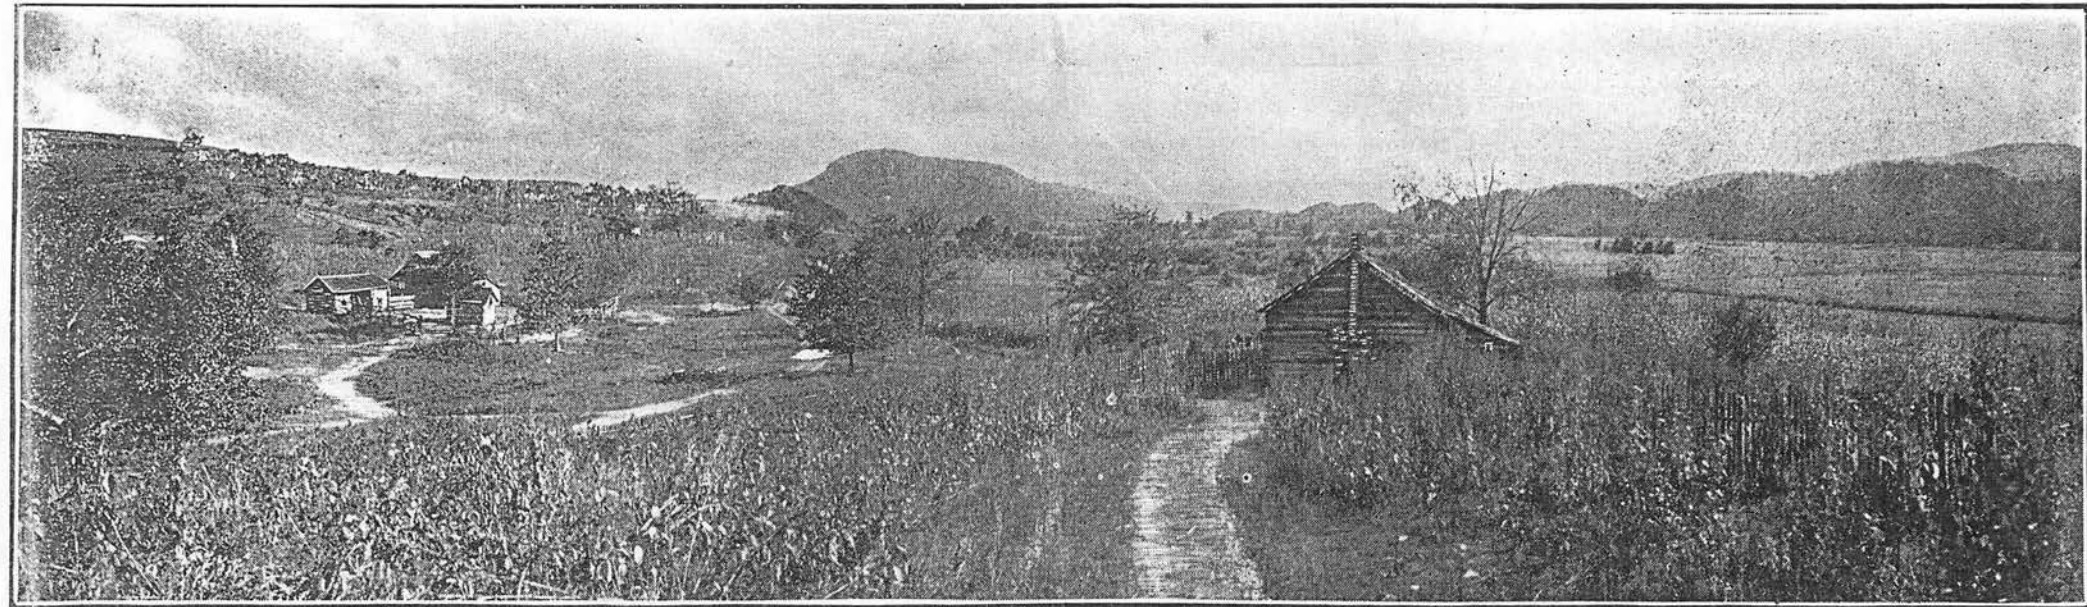

It requires no prophet's eye to read the future of this splendid suburb—in distance the nearest to Chattanooga. The vast mineral and timber resources of Waldens Ridge will in the near future bring a railroad bridge. Then, of course, the railroad follows, penetrating the heart of this undeveloped section and conveying its wealth into the channels of trade. Manufacturing plants of every character, now only waiting for transportation facilities, will be erected along the line of road and river front. The potent powers of the suck will be utilized to bring water, light and other necessary utilities. Then Hill City will lead her sister suburbs as far commercially as she now distances them in the beauty of her natural scenery.

Ten Reasons

WHY YOU SHOULD PROCURE A TITLE GUARANTY

When you Buy a Lot or Lend your money

FIRST.—It offers through its officers and counsel the best legal opinions obtainable. It makes the examination of the title of the first and greatest importance.

SECOND.—It is the only company or person with a complete Abstract of the Records of Hamilton County, Tennessee—without such an abstract and without a locality index searches cannot be safely made.

THIRD.—Its patrons pay no “extras for searches.”

FOURTH.—It has a fixed, reasonable and uniform standard of fees.

FIFTH.—It solves the problem of cheap and expeditious transfers of title. It can prepare a dozen Guaranties while it is preparing one Abstract.

SIXTH.—Its certificate of Guaranty covers all losses by reason of forgery of signature, false personations, or any other fraud. Abstracts do not cover any of these.

SEVENTH.—An individual attorney's opinion does not protect an owner of the land like a Guaranty of Title by a solvent company. In the one case if there is error of law or fact, the client pays for it; in the other case the company pays for it.

EIGHTH.—Its policies are largely in use by conservative corporations and careful individuals. They afford absolute security of title, with ease, cheapness and quickness of subsequent transfer.

NINTH.—It attends to the drawing of contracts, the preparation of deeds and mortgages, and the closing of titles.

TENTH.—It is the client's company; consults the client's interests and saves the client's money.

Election, August 4, 1904

I Solicit Your Support

THE HONORABLE COUNTY COURT:—We have completed checking the individual tax receipts of Trustee T. E. We find that the office of Trustee is being conducted in a neat systematic and business-like manner, in a way reflecting credit upon the Trustee and his office force.

Very respectfully,

EMIL WASSMAN, Chairman,

H. P. FRY, Secretary,

T. W. STANFIELD,

Co. Rev. Com.

“I certainly congratulate you upon your handsome collections and prompt remittances.”
